An English Afternoon Tea is a very special treat for family and friends. This very English tradition is said to have been started around 1840. Tea is usually taken between 3 and 5 o'clock. This tradition is still kept up in all the fine Hotels in Britain and in little Tearooms all around the country. Served in our bar, lounge area or on a warm day 'al fresco'

Best Western Frensham Pond Hotel is a great believer in supporting the local community. We have teamed up with our local hospice, Phyllis Tuckwell Hospice in Farnham and work closely with them to help raise much needed funds that support patients and their families who are coping with life threatening conditions like cancer or motor - neurone disease. As part of this initiative we are inviting guests to pay an extra £1 on their bill as a donation. We will process this and pass the payment to the Hospice. Should you not wish to participate, please let us know
